CHAUMONT

THE CONURBATION AND PALESTRA

WELCOME TO Haute-Marne

CHAUMONT AND ITS TERRITORY

Chaumont's conurbation sits in preserved natural settings, far away from the stress of larger metropolises.

As a genuine countryside town, Chaumont's hospitality sector can accommodate more than 200 people including people with reduced mobility.

Land of gastronomy, Chaumont is located on the road to Champagne where top-of-the-line restaurants - including a Michelin-starred restaurant in Colombey-Les-Deux-Eglises, former town of the General-De-Gaulle - sit.

The teams will be welcome in restaurants honoring French gastronomy.

The sport delegations will also be able to enjoy Chaumont's proximity with numerous leisure activities (golf, karting, lakes, thermal stations (spas) and a casino).

Within a 100% high-speed digital area, PALESTRA complex is equipped with high-speed WIFI. Video equipment will also be available upon request.

THERMAL

THE THERMAL CURES

This very complete range of treatments combines thermal water steam treatments, mud, modeling under thermal water, simple baths and hydro jet baths, swimming pools... Our experienced and regularly trained caretakers will follow you during your stay.

THERMAL WATERS

Bourbonne-les-Bains spring water is naturally warm (66 C). Calcic, rich in mineral salts, magnesium and trace elements, it acts on bone metabolism, preventing the main factors of demineralization and on the respiratory mucous membranes.

Scientifically recognized, the water supports the body's immune system and the physical and moral reconstruction / recovery. The efficiency of the thermal water in Bourbonne-Les-Bains prevents osteoporosis, by acting on the phosphocalcic metabolism and by improving the fixing of calcium on bones, thus preserving its osseous capital.

The spa of Bourbonne-Les-Bains offers 2 orientations: rheumatology and respiratory tract.

FOCUS ON

COLOMBEY-LES-DEUX-EGLISES

Guide MICHELIN

The Michelin guide's opinion: "He created a contemporary French gastronomy by working with beautiful products: langoustine, red mullet, lobster, Angus beef and sweet-breads. His tomatoes, caviar and oysters, roasted king scampi and glazed red currant juice, snacked red mullet filet and lime mousse-line demonstrate solid craft-skills."

Colombey-les-Deux-Églises is a city known around the world for being the place where the General Charles de Gaulle lived for 20 years.

Born in Lille in 1890, the man who saved France half a century later and became President of the French Republic in 1959 had been living in "La Boiserie" in Colombey-les-Deux-Églises since 1934. The General de Gaulle's (who died in 1970) mark on Colombey-les-Deux-Eglises, is celebrated by a memorial inaugurated in 2008, overlooked by the imposing Cross of Lorraine.

Another major asset of Colombey-les-Deux-Eglises is the vast and beautiful "forêt des Dhuits", mostly located on its territory and that shelters numerous natural springs as well as charming paths and animals, attracting lots of tourists.

Hostellerie La Montagne

The Michelin-starred restaurant in Haute-Marne !

Bourgogne, Champagne and Toscane
The "Hostellerie la Montagne", located in Colombey-les-Deux-Églises, is a hotel-restaurant type of institution with three spacious and cozy dining rooms, delightfully wooded, letting a soft and caressing light filter through the large windows opening onto the park.

In this peaceful village of Haute-Marne, dear to The General de Gaulle, you can find this beautiful 17th century stone house that is entirely surrounded by a beautiful park extending into the countryside. You will be greeted by cozy and comfortable rooms for your stay.
